Rep. Hovey to Speak at National Foundation of Women Legislators Annual Meeting

State Representative DebraLee Hovey has been invited to speak on family life issues and to help develop model legislation to help families throughout the United States at this weekend's National Foundation of Women Legislators Annual Meeting in Phoenix, Arizona.

"I will be making a presentation on legislation affecting families that was approved by the General Assembly and enacted into law this year," said Rep. Hovey, R-112th District. "I will be working with the NFWL's Family Building Subcommittee to help develop model legislation designed to benefit families that could become the basis for bills that may be considered at state legislatures throughout the United States. I look forward to the challenge of working with other women legislators to develop measures that could strengthen families throughout the country in the years ahead."

The mission of the National Foundation of Women Legislators is to provide strategic resources to women leaders for leadership development and effective governance through conferences, effective seminars, issue education materials, professional and personal relationships, and networking at both the state and federal levels. The NFWL is a non-profit, non-partisan organization that does not take ideological positions on any current issue, but exists to assist women leaders in the process of legislative debate, networking, re-elections, public opinion molding and leadership, Representative Hovey said.
